

DEMOCRATS AFRAID WILSON-REED FEUD WILL MEAN DEFEAT

Shows, Capital Politicians Think, Return of Former President to Politics.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Woodrow Wilson's attack on Senator Reed of Missouri, in which he stated that so far from having his endorsement for re-election, the Missouri Senator "was incapable of sustained allegiance to any person and any cause," is taken to indicate the former President's re-entry into politics.

The Democrats in Congress received the news of the row with dismay. They had concluded that Reed would win the nomination in Missouri and intended to support him and felt assured that he would be re-elected.

Now they are all up in the air and fearful that the loss of a Democratic Senatorship will be the result.

Reed's supporters say that the interference of the former President in State politics will be resented and that the resentment will be visited on Brockbridge Long, whom Wilson favors.

The antagonism between Wilson and Reed dates back to the appointment of Thomas D. Jones to be a member of the Federal Reserve Board. Reed denounced him as a "fool of Wall Street."

The President sent for Reed again and telling him that he had a personal interest in Mr. Jones's appointment asked him to forego his opposition. Reed replied that he was a United States Senator with a duty to perform and succeeded in preventing confirmation. From that time on the feud raged, all through the war period and attained its zenith during the League of Nations struggle.

GOVERNOR IS URGED TO PARDON MOONEY

San Francisco District Attorney
Makes New Plea for Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—District Attorney Brady of San Francisco has sent a letter to Gov. Stephens asking him to pardon Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings, who are serving life sentences for murder in connection with a bomb explosion here which occurred during a parade on July 22, 1916, ten people being killed and fourteen injured.

"I believe no person who permits himself to analyze the situation," Brady's letter said, "entertains any

West Was Only Two, but Memory Is Clear—
Scores Help Him Celebrate To-Day.

Scores of friends to-day visited the homestead of Thomas Joseph West at Wheatley Hills, L. I., to congratulate him upon his hundredth birthday, which he celebrated by reading the newspapers and shaking the hands of his many well-wishers. West believes he is the last of the "last living persons who met Marquis Lafayette."

He remembers that the Marquis shook hands with him in 1824. The centenarian is in robust health, has a ruddy complexion, and his only serious physical defect is deafness, and he becomes very impatient at his inability to catch all of a conversation carried on in his presence. He is only slightly bald and his teeth are in excellent condition. His mind is perfectly clear and he carries on animated discourses on current events.

West ate a hearty breakfast this morning, but said he intended to spend the day in his rocking chair in order that he might not become too tired through receiving the congratulations of his friends. The Rev. William H. Jackson, pastor of the Reformed Church at Oyster Bay, had planned a reception at the church for the old man, but this plan was abandoned at the request of Miss Henrietta West, the old man's daughter, who feared such a reception would tax her father's powers too severely.

Among the relatives at the homestead to-day were Edward West, a son of the old man, who has just completed fifty years' service with the National Park Bank in Manhattan, Mrs. Margaret Atwater, eighty, who lives in Flatbush, and Mrs. Mabel Haglund, of No. 482 Ocean Avenue, Brooklyn, West's only grandchild.

The centenarian is a great-uncle of Frederick MacMonnies, sculptor of the statue "Civic Virtue." Mr. MacMonnies was expected to be at the West homestead to-day.

Mr. West comes from a distinguished English family, and one of his ancestors, a Thomas West, was the first doubt that Mooney and Billings were convicted on false testimony. The only reason for keeping them in prison is that they are undesirable citizens."

TWO RAILROAD FLOATS CROWDED ONTO SHORE.

Two railroad floats loaded with freight cars went aground this morning on Negro Point off Ward's Island, and will be stuck there until high tide to-night. They were in tow of the tug William M. Mills of the Daniel McAllister company. They were crowded by a west-bound float in Hell Gate. The police reported that there was no danger and no damage.

45 YEARS ON THE WORLD, SAM COLLINS WILL RETIRE.

Joined Mailing Room Force When
It Numbered 40—Will Rest on His Farm.

Samuel C. Collins, seventy-three, who has been employed as delivery clerk in the mailing room of The World forty-five years, will retire April 28. He entered the newspaper field when fifteen years old as messenger for the Evening Express. He later became a messenger for Horace Greeley.

Mr. Collins joined the mailing room forces of The World when it was published in a small building on Park Row, near Beekman Street. He has been a member of the night force ever since.

His many years of service enabled him to watch the rapid progress of The World. At the time he obtained work in the mailing room, forty-five men, two boys and two women were employed there. To-day more than 300 comprise the evening and morning mailing room forces.

The World's circulation at that time was about 32,000 daily and 16,000 Sundays. Its average daily circulation to-day is more than 380,000. Mr. Collins's home is at No. 142 East 52d Street. He and Mrs. Collins will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary July 13. He recently bought a farm at Riverhead, L. I., and there he intends to go when the last edition of The World is put in the mails April 28.

5,000 ATTEND BAZAAR FOR CARMELITE SCHOOL

Will Help Pay Off an Indebtedness of $78,725.

Five thousand persons attended the bazaar in the school of the Carmelite Fathers last night in East 29th Street. It was the second night of the fair which is to continue until April 20 and is for the benefit of the school. At present there is a debt of $78,725 which the fathers hope will be paid off entirely or materially reduced.

The school, which was one of the most prosperous in the city several years ago, has not been so of late due to the fact that the parish from which its pupils are drawn is rapidly being changed from one of dwellings to one of factories and the money raised will help make good the natural deficit due to decreasing population.

Porch Frocks

$4.95

$5.95

These warm April days lure one out on to the porch and make one long for real summer frocks. Gingham is, of course, one of the most delightful of summer fabrics for simple morning frocks, and those sketched here are among the most charming we have seen this season.

Checked gingham of a fine quality, is trimmed with plain colored organdie or with hand-embroidery.

Dainty touches such as black smocking, hand-embroidery, or cross-stitching and fine tucks give the appearance of a much more expensive frock.

A Cretonne Dress, $6.95—Such a becoming slender model, the kind you want to wear in your garden, all during the summer.

Bungalow Aprons, Special, 98c and $1.25—This is a special group, most reasonably priced. Percalé is the material, in checks or stripes and many colors.
